February 28, 2025

To our valued customers,

Due to current market conditions, we find it necessary to increase prices effective on all new orders received beginning March 1, 2025. All confirmed orders as of the close of business on February 28th, 2025, will be price protected if shipped from a U.S. warehouse by March 31, 2025.

Any new orders received on or after March 1, 2025, or any previously confirmed orders to be shipped after April 1, 2025 will be priced at the time of shipment.

For specific pricing on new orders, or questions related to existing orders, please contact your respective MCSW sales representative.

NOTE: We reserve the right to adjust pricing in the event the United States imposes any further trade action(s) against Mexico. We reserve the right to review and re-quote any offers or pending orders, even those that have been confirmed with either a sales acknowledgement or written acceptance by both parties.

We appreciate your understanding and continued partnership as we navigate these changes together. Your support and trust mean a lot to us, and we are dedicated to serving you with excellence.

Thank you for being a valued customer!
